MANHATTANVILLE
COLLEGE

PURCHASE, NEW YORK

Don't listen to what Derick says.

President Berman's entourage.

Esther and Annie smiling? What a relief that orientation is over!!!

We all know Kira is the life of the party.

The freshmen sit down and relax while the O.A.'s put on a show.

Orientation

Let's face it, beginning college can be a frightening experience. Being away from home for the first time, making new friends, and eating your first FLIK meal are all adventures in their own right. But that's what Orientation is for. This year's program, led by Orientation Chairpersons Annie Inigo and Esther Lee, successfully helped assimilate the incoming freshman into Manhattanville life. They were welcomed into the Manhattanville Family by the Orientation Advisors with open arms. All summer long, the O.A.'s worked hard to prepare campus for the new arrivals. They decorated bulletin boards, planned ice breakers and activities, and even had some fun doing it. Who could forget the Variety Show with Katrina Lalei, and the constant search for the D Cube? The freshmen are sure to never forget the first few days of their college lives due to these helpful volunteers.

QUAD JAM 2002

QUAD JAM 2002

In April the Quad was littered with tents and games for everyone to enjoy. There was everything including sumo wrestling, balloon rides, caricatures, and a mainstay of Quad Jam, great bands, D.J.'s and beer! Once again it rained on Quad Jam, but that didn't stop any of the fun. People still spent the day forgetting about the upcoming finals. It seemed as having a good time was just a little more important for most people. So once again Manhattanville's greatest tradition lived on through mud, rain and beer sludge!

Kristina feels mature when she hangs with the younger people.

The Future Dave Matthews Band.

Amir holdin' it down like whoa!

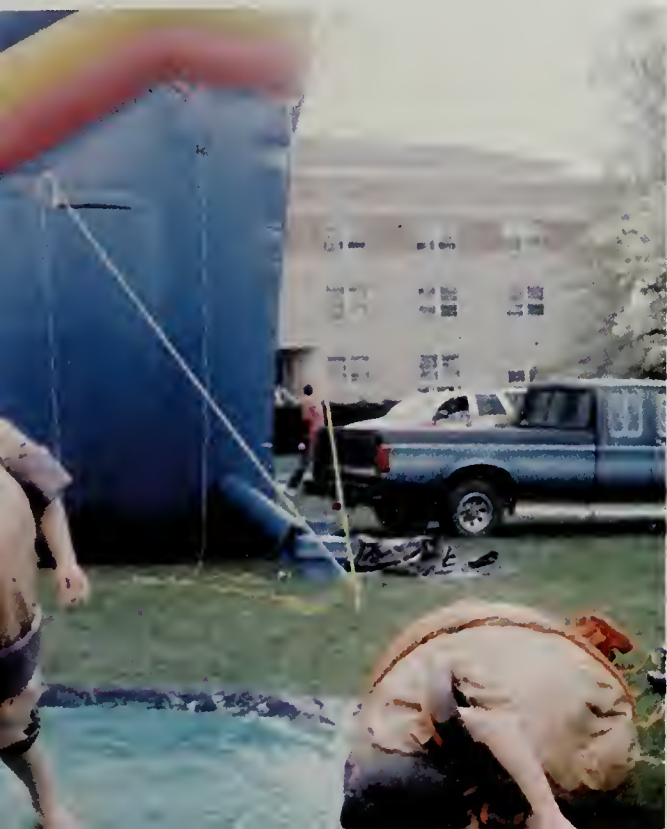

Back to the 3rd grade.

Sit back and enjoy the show.

K.C., Lindsay, Krista and Nicole, enjoying their third rainy Quad Jam.

As you can see, Manhattanville is 75% female.

Once again the Manhattanville community made its way to the Quad for some great music, food, and fun. On this beautiful day you could see bouncy boxing and jousting matches all while listening to great campus bands and D.J.'s. The night culminated with the traditional bonfire. Great thanks goes out to the Fall Jam committee for putting together another dynamite time on Manhattanville's Quad. We even got President's Flik for dinner. Man what a difference! Hey Berman, can we move in?

No one wants to play with Jonathan.

What a couple of hotties.

Graffiti is a tier 2 Violation...got it?

Jerome, Farid and Sean you all are running this rap game!!!

The "Red Cup" should be the new M'ville emblem.

M'ville is just so much fun!!!

Lenny and Jennifer look great in their costumes.

Halloween

Every year, the ghouls, ghosts, and zombies crawl out for a great party in Reid Castle. This year was no different. On October 29th, underclassmen and seniors came together to celebrate both Halloween and 200 nights for the graduating seniors. Campus came out in full force to party the night away. Food was served, the DJ rocked all night long and the costume contest was a success! This year's winners for the singles contest were Andrew Hickcox as Jango Fett and Diana McGuirk as a sunflower. For the group contest, Katie, Aubrey, Elyse, Genevieve and Amy were the big winners being dressed as waitresses. The party lasted all night and everyone had a great time. I wonder how attendance was in class on Wednesday...

I didn't know Nuns had beards?

Marilyn made a deal with the devil.

Underclassmen Underclassmen

Open up that cooler guys, the day has just begun!

Michal and Jamie in front of the new Valiant Express.

KC and JoJo, no pun intended

Kevin why did you have to creep into Adam's picture?

A large, dark gray, stylized letter 'S' that curves around the central text. It has a thick, slightly irregular stroke, giving it a hand-drawn or textured appearance. It starts at the top left, curves down and to the right, then loops back up and to the left, and finally curves down and to the right again, framing the word 'Seniors'.

Residence Halls

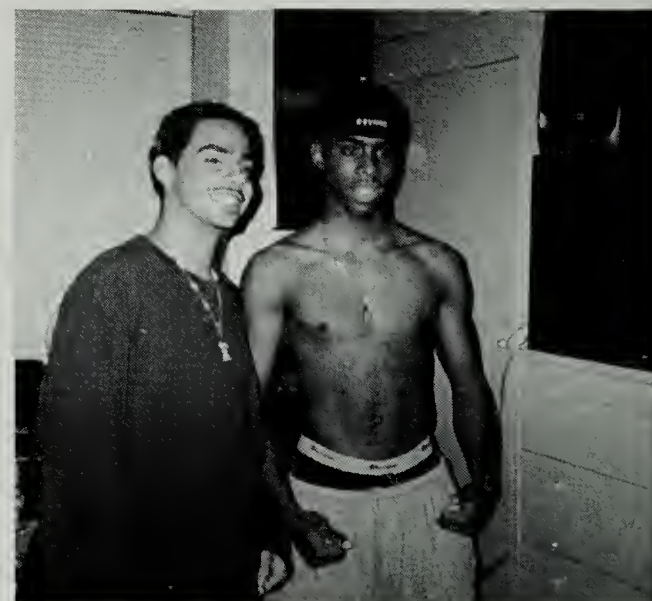

Spellman, Tenney, Damman, and Founders. Most of us have lived in at least two, but some have lived in all. They are our living spaces, and our homes for four years. From living in Spellman and sharing a bathroom with your whole floor to sharing a living room with five of your best friends, living in Residence Halls is a fun experience. While it is a bit cramped, there always seemed to be a great group of friends gathering into a room to watch a movie with a bag of fresh popcorn or just gossiping. Afterall, it is rumorville.

You know you are graduating in 2003 when...

You hooked up with someone your freshman year and THOUGHT no one was gonna find out (YEAH RIGHT).

You would go under someone else's screen name and pretend to be them.

You used to go to the Palladium on Friday nights.

You have made fun of the freshmen who wear bikinis when it's 60 degrees on the quad.

You remember feces in the girl's bathroom showers.

You have all your furniture stolen from the lounge .

You wonder who Ross Novak is.

You get locked in your own room and have to have the fire department come and get you out.

You use the word "GRIP" as a noun, pronoun, adjective, and verb.

You get psyched for Division III sports.

You have seen a production of the Vagina Monologues

DJ Shortcut is your favorite DJ.

You have gone knocking on doors in Spellman when you're drunk.

You remember the Gap as the Saloon.

You have fond memories of O'Briens.

You have done the walk of shame .

You remember the Colonel.

You talk to your friends who are sitting in the same room on your NEXTEL.

Half of your friends have been dismissed from school.

You have been on housing probation.

You remember when getting written up consisted of making a bulletin board or giving out flyers.

You put a picture of Coach Curtin on the top of your Christmas tree.

You wear flip flops and socks.

You make booty calls at 3 AM.

You and one of your friends have hooked up with the same guy/girl.

You have lived in "Choices".

You're a team captain and you go out drinking the night before a game.

You were here before there were Manhattanville cheerleaders.

You remember when they were trying to burn down Spellman.

You don't remember a Quad Jam without rain.

You have seen the manager of flik dressed as a woman at The Sound Factory.

You remember Trudy.

You remember when the Pub didn't have an actual bar.

You remember when Spellman had six R.A.s.

You remember the school network being fast.

Seniors relaxing in the Pub.

Smile everyone!

Jeremy Cruise?

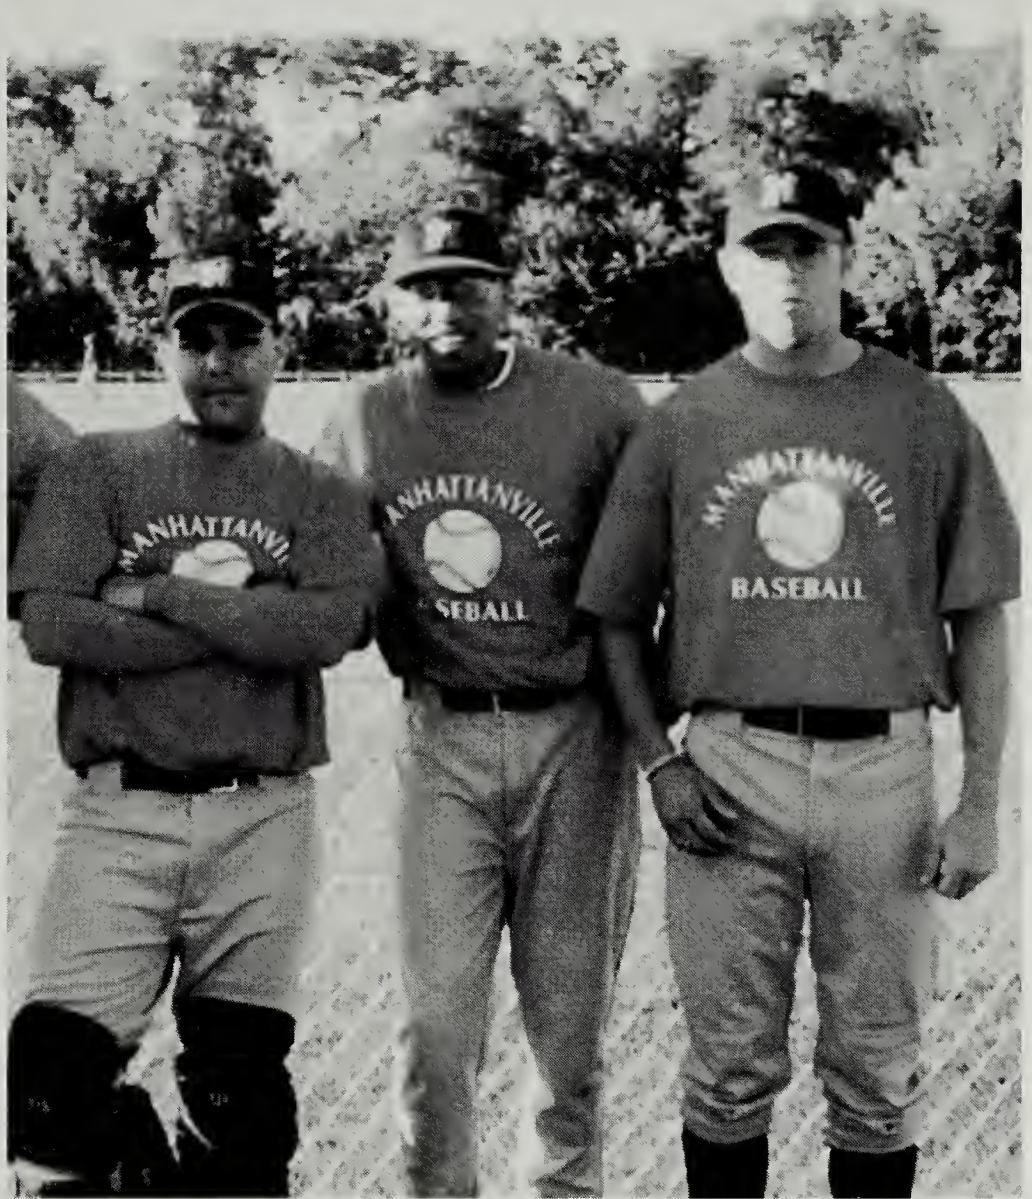

Spellman..those were the days. Rough night, I suppose.

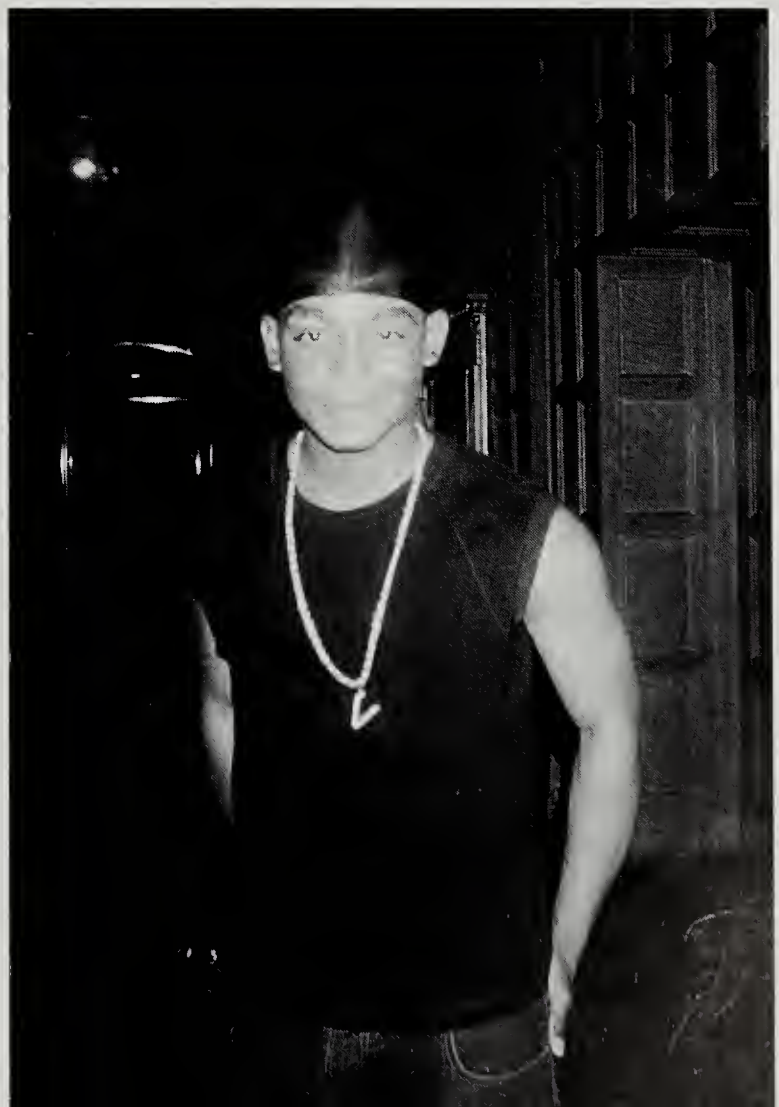

Jeremy and Steph making an appearance at one of the many formals.

Eric, Kevin, and Joe need to lighten up.

Good luck in the game, guys!

Agradeço a Deus por ter permitido a graça de te-la em minha vida, como também, por ter podido dar uma boa formação e acima de tudo cuidar de você; com muito carinho, fe e com um amor incondicional, puro e verdadeiro.

Larissa, houve momentos que nos falhamos mas, o mais importante é que sempre tivemos a certeza da presença de Deus em nossas vidas.

Desde a sua infância, com seu sim, chegamos agora ao final de uma meta, onde nos saímos ganhando.

Quero parabenizá-la pelos 16 anos de dedicação ao seu futuro, junto com muitas conquistas. com seu esforço, você alcançou muitos méritos e me fez sentir feliz dando resposta a minha carinhosa dedicação ao longo desta caminhada, onde eu nunca estive so. Deus comigo e Deus conosco.

Larissa, desejo que seja feliz e que tenha muito sucesso e que Deus te abençoe.

It is our light, not our darkness, that most frightens us.
We ask ourselves:
Who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented and fabulous?
Actually, who are you not to be?
You are a Child of God.
Your playing small doesn't serve the world.
There's nothing enlightening about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you.
We are born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us.
It's not just some of us. It's everyone.
And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same.
As we are liberated from our own fear,
Our presence automatically liberates others."

The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step!

Congratulations, you have achieved the second milestone in your academic career. The first was high school and now college. You have worked hard, used your time wisely and the fruits of your labors are about to pay dividends. Opportunities abound in the world of work and the only impediment to success is you! Dream big, embrace your vision until it becomes a reality. Always remember where there is no vision the people perish.

On this momentous occasion we celebrate you and are extremely proud of your accomplishments. You have joined the ranks of those who stand on the precipice of making a difference in the community and the world.

Never stop believing in yourself and keep your dreams alive!

Keep Believing in Yourself Unknown

There may be days
When you get up in the morning
And things aren't the way
You had hoped they would be.

That's when you have to
Tell yourself that things will get better.
There are times when people
Disappoint you and let you down,

But those are the times
When you must remind yourself
To trust your own judgements and opinions,
To keep your life focused on believing in yourself

And all that you are capable of.
There will be challenges to face
And changes to make in your life,
And it is up to you to accept them.

Constantly keep yourself headed
In the right direction for you.
It may not be easy at time,
But in those times of struggle

You will find a stronger sense of who you are
Remember to believe in yourself
And all you want your life to be,
Because the challenges and changes
Will only help you find the goals
That you know are meant to come true for you

Michael Drews

Dear Michael:

As you close this chapter in your life and embark on a new one, may wisdom you have attained through the years guide you in achieving the goals that you have set for yourself in the future. For every end there is a beginning, and for every beginning there are vast opportunities awaiting you.

Your lineage is rich and filled with many great achievements. Your mother's parents, Dominican immigrants, struggled to bring their young family to America to pursue the American Dream in the 1960's. Your grandparents encountered many obstacles including language barriers, discrimination, and economic hardship, but worked hard and overcame them. They came to the United States to strive for a better way of life, to give their children and their children's children opportunities that only this country could afford. Through their children and now you, they have achieved all they set out to do. They have achieved their American Dream. Your grandparents always said, "Those in power can take away everything you own, but no one can ever take away your knowledge or your integrity." Knowledge is the key to success. You are the first grandchild to graduate from college. Grandma and Grandpa are smiling down from heaven as I write these words.

Thus, never forget where you come from. The past is a good marker, as it will show you how much you have grown and achieved in the present, but always look toward the future so that you can continue to grow.

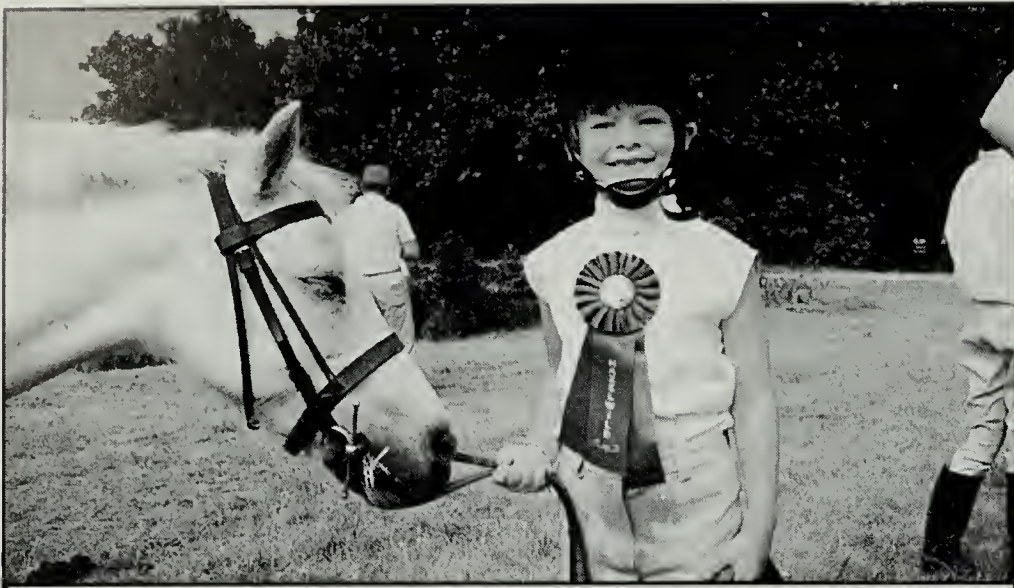

There are many obstacles that you will encounter throughout your life. Only you have the power within you to determine how you will handle your adversities. Be positive and positive things will always come your way; negativity will always spur negative outcomes. May God grant you the fortitude and patience to persevere and overcome. May you continue to grow spiritually and emotionally, in our continuing human endeavor to strive to be better human beings.

To conclude, we have listed a few thoughts of wisdom to assist you through your journey through life.

- True greatness begins with thoughts of true greatness.
- Never worry because worrying is like a rocking chair; "It's something to do, but it doesn't get you anywhere."
- "Shit happens"
- "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" {I had to add something biblical for your Titi Susan's sake}.
- Remember, those whom you meet coming up the ladder of success, will be those very people who you will encounter coming back down. Nothing lasts forever.
- Happiness is a journey, not a "destination."
- Expect the unexpected: As the famous saying goes, "Life is like a box of chocolate; you never know what your gonna get."

That's all I've got to say about that!

Congratulations Michael! We are all very proud of you!

Christine:

From the first moment I saw those dark “shark eyes” curiously looking at me while I cuddled you in my arms, I knew that you would accomplish great things. I was right!

With all the trials and tribulations you were faced with during your early years at school, you have proven to us and more importantly, to yourself, that you can accomplish anything you put your mind to. This is certainly one of the biggest milestones of your life and after all the hard work, well deserved. Congratulations Graduate!!!

My wish to you is to: smell the roses, enjoy the sun, relish the simple miracles of life and more importantly remember your family. The love and support of your family is the cornerstone of you who are and we shall carry you along the rest of your journey in life.

Keep smiling, continue to learn who you are and liking yourself and when you get to that plateau of being in-tuned with God and yourself, you will be ready to meet the love of your life.

My precious “fish eyes”, I love you, Mom.

Dearest Christine,

Your graduation is but one more step in defining who you are and who you will be. Treasure the memories of the past four years, but more importantly, acknowledge your own accomplishments and achievements. Thank family and friends for their support and love, but also thank yourself for the perseverance, patience and performance which made today possible. The reward is yours!

Love,

Vincent
